

YORKSHIRE
PIE & MASH
SHOP

‘WHOLESOME
HOSPITALITY FROM A BYGONE ERA’

WELCOME TO THE YORKSHIRE PIE & MASH SHOP

We would like to extend a very warm Yorkshire welcome to you, whether you are dining alone or with your family and friends.

All of our Pie Meals are served with deliciously creamy mash, made here on the premises, tasty gravy and peas (mushy or garden).

Our Pudding selection, just like Grandma used to make include - Jam Roly Poly, Treacle Pudding and of course Bread & Butter Pudding.

On celebration days, such as Yorkshire Day (weekend), Great British Battles, and of course the birthdays of King George VI and Churchill - our special pies will be served - Game, Pork & Black Pudding and Pork with Chicken and Stuffing.

A YORKSHIRE GRACE

A suitably straightforward and irreverent version of the traditional blessing.

‘God bless us all an’ make us able,
To yet all t’sstuff on this table’

Woolton Pie, at first known as Lord Woolton Pie, was an adaptable inexpensive dish of vegetables, widely served in Britain in the Second World War when rationing and shortages made other dishes hard to prepare. It was created at the Savoy Hotel in London by its then Maitre Chef de Cuisine, Francis Lantry. It was one of a number of recipes commended to the British public by the Ministry of Food during the Second World War to enable a nutritious diet to be maintained despite shortages and rationing of many types of food, especially meat. It was named after Frederick Marquis, 1st Lord Woolton (1883–1964), who popularized the recipe after he became Minister of Food in 1940.
